COMPLETE BUSINESS FORM1 NOTES

About the book:

Education is a key for a country's development, but it becomes a hindrance when it is unequally distributed. This big problem of disparity in Education system can be solved through technology. Hence it's high time we embrace technology in Education sooner than later.

Teachers will therefore use the book in their laptops to teach and even give students notes to read online after revision.

The book is divided into two parts:

Part one – paper one

Part two – paper two

BUSINESS AND ITS ENVIRONMENT

By the end of the topic, the learner should be able to:

- a. Explain the meaning and purpose of a business
- b. Identify various business activities
- c. Identify various types of business environments
- d. Explain how the various business environments influence a business.

Meaning of a business

This refers to any activity carried out by an individual or by an organization with the aim of making a profit.

Profit is what the business earns above what it spends in providing goods and services to the people who need them.

The term business also refers to firms or organizations that provide goods and services to make a profit.

Purpose of business (Reasons for the existence of businesses)

Business is important in any society because it is not possible for people to provide themselves with all what they need without direct or indirect aid from others. Some of the main reasons why businesses exist are:

- i) To provide goods and services-Businesses exist to satisfy the needs and wants of buyers by providing them with goods and services. Buyers include individual consumers, other businesses and the government.
- ii) To create employment-Businesses provide job opportunities through which members of society can earn money, which can be used to buy goods and services for the satisfaction of their needs.

- iii) To earn profit-Profit is the primary goal of carrying out business operations. It is earned by the people who put their resources and effort in business
- iv) As an outlet of new innovation-Some businesses provide unique goods and services which may not be existing in society e.g. plastic fencing poles that are now replacing wooden poles.
- v) To be as own boss-Some people run businesses so as to be in full control of the operations and make all the decisions regarding the business without need of reference to people. vi) To utilize extra resources-Some people go into business to make use of money or property which is not being put to profitably use at a given time.
- vii) To offer special services-Some businesses provide services that raise the living standard of people e.g. government enterprises that provide public utilities such as health care and water. viii) To utilize spare time-Some people run businesses in order to make use of extra time at their disposal and in the process make some extra money. A large number of formally employed people have small business which they run during their free time in order to earn more money. NB: Whatever purpose a business fulfills, it has to earn a reasonable return on the invested money to survive.

TYPES OF BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

People carry out different business activities in order to earn income.

Business activities are activities which involve the provision of goods or services with an aim of earning a profit.

Activities done without the intention of making profit are referred to as non-business activities. Business activities may be grouped into the following seven categories: a) Extraction

This involves obtaining goods from their natural setting e.g. mining, farming, lumbering, fishing, quarrying e.t.c

- b) Processing-This involves the conversion of raw materials into more useful products without combining it with other goods. Examples here include milling/grinding flour, refining oil, tanning of skins and hides, conversion of iron into steel e.t.c
- c) Manufacturing-This involves combining different raw materials to come up with one final product. Such activities include bread baking, making a table e.t.c
- d) Construction-This involves building of structures such as bridges,ships,aeroplanes,houses,roads,railways e.t.c
- e) Distribution of goods-This refers to the activities involved in moving goods from where they are produced to where they are needed. People who carry out distribution are called distributors. Examples of distributors are wholesalers and retailers.
- f) Trade-Activities in this category involve the buying and selling of goods with a view of making a profit. People involved in trade are called traders.
- g) Provisions of services-Activities in this category involve human acts which could be mental or physical. These include activities such as hair-cutting, hair styling, car-washing, nursing, teaching, driving, and entertaining e.t.c.

NOTE: Students to give examples of activities they pay money for which are not goods.

BUSINESS ENVIRONMENTS AND THEIR EFFECTS ON THE BUSINESS

Business environment refers to conditions or factors which surround and affect business operations. These factors could be within the business (internal environment) or from outside the business (external environment).

These factors affect the decisions, strategies, processes and overall performance of the business.

Activity: Discuss some factors that have a strong influence on businesses within the immediate environment.

Internal Business Environment

This comprises factors that are within the business unit itself. These factors can be controlled fully by the business. Internal environmental conditions could be either strength or weaknesses. The strengths tend to improve the performance of the firm while weaknesses tend to affect the operations of the business negatively.

Internal environment is also referred to as: micro-environment. Micro environmental factors include:

1) Objectives of the business

These are targets or goals that are set by the owners or managers of a business to be achieved. The objectives will influence the following;

- a. The strategies of a business-This is a plan of action which a business intends to follow so as to achieve its goals.
- b. The resources required-By studying the objectives set; a business can determine the resources required for its effective operation. These resources may be physical, financial, human e.t.c

2) Management policies and style

The management refers to the people who are responsible for directing the day-to-day operations of a business. It is the management that sets the objectives and policies of an organization. A policy is a course of action for achieving set objectives, which is adopted by a business. (it is the established way of doing things in a business.

- a) The policies of a business-The policies adopted by a business may boost or hinder its growth and survival e.g. the management may decide that workers will not be allowed to join trade unions. This may make the workers feel locked out of the decision-making process, resulting in tension. This tension may interfere with the performance of the employees and result in inefficiency.

- b) The activities of a business - Management policies will determine the activities of a business i.e. the goods and services provided, location of business e.t.c.
- c) Management style-This refers to how managers conduct the daily operations of the business. This will determine how workers relate with their managers. The style adopted by the management will influence the workers performance positively or negatively thus affecting the overall performance of the business.

3) Business structure

This is the formal arrangement of activities that are carried out at various levels of the organization so that objectives of the business can be achieved.

Duties and responsibilities of all the workers are defined in the business structure. Their interrelationships are also defined.

A well laid out business structure is likely to lead to success of the business since:

- i. Each of the employees know what is expected from them
- ii. There will be no conflicts or confusion among the workers
- iii. Team work is enhanced
- iv. Ensures proper control which in turn promotes efficiency.

A poor business structure leads to business failure.

4) Business Resources

A resource refers to anything that can be used to achieve an objective. These resources include;

- a. Human resource-Human resource (personnel) refers to the employees working in an organization. Employees will only be useful if they have the necessary knowledge and skills to successfully carry out the assigned tasks. It is therefore necessary for the management to match the correct people with the correct job activities; this will ensure success for the business.

- b. Financial resource-Money is required in order to start and operate a business. A business with adequate finances that are properly allocated to various activities and also monitored is likely to do better than the one lacking such aspects.
- c. Physical resources-These include tangible facilities which belong to the business such as buildings, machinery, furniture and stock. Availability of such facilities enables the business to operate.
- d. Technology-This refers to skills and methods used in production. Use of modern technology enhances production of goods and services.

5.) Research and development

Research and development is an important factor for the success of a business. Research generates new ideas, skills and better methods of doing things.

A business has to do market and consumer research regularly to find out how the consumers perceive its goods and services, and how they can improve in order to outdo their competitors.

Research also assists in the development of new and unique goods and services that may attract new consumers or maintain the loyalty of the existing ones. 6.) Business culture

This is a combination of employees expectations, beliefs and values within the business. It is normally passed on from one generation of employees to the next. Employees acquire norms and code of conduct that is acceptable to all from the general manager down to the sweeper. A business that has a culture of involving employees in decision-making may perform better than one that does not involve its employees. 7. Owners

The owners of the business provide finances/resources to start and run the business. They also make decisions concerning operations of the business.

Appropriate decisions are likely to lead to well being of the business while poor decisions may adversely affect the business.

External Business Environment

This environment consists of all the factors which affect the operations of the business from the outside. Some of these factors offer business opportunities while others may create problems (threats).

Business have limited or no control over external environmental factors and should therefore try to do adjust in order to cope with them.

External environmental factors are also referred to as macroenvironment i.e. environment that is in large scale. External business environment can further be sub-divided into operating environment and remote environment, depending on whether the factors can be influenced to some extent or not. Those environments that can be influenced are referred to as operating environment while those that cannot be influenced are known as remote environment.

- o) Concern for customer satisfaction-An entrepreneur should ensure that customers are satisfied so as to continue being/remain loyal to the business.
- p) Desire to feedback-An entrepreneur should be interested in knowing how the business is performing.

Generating Business Ideas

For an entrepreneur, the first step in starting a business begins with an idea (business idea).

Business ideas are all about thoughts on possible businesses an entrepreneur can start or improve. It indicates among other things;

- a) The products to produce/sell
- b) Who the business will sell to (market)
- c) Where the business will be located
- d) How the will be run (management)
- e) Why the business is needed (objectives)

Sources of Business Ideas

- i. Newspapers-Local newspapers like the Daily Nation, East African e.t.c especially in the business and advertising sections have a lot of information about commercial opportunities as well as personal services.
- ii. Shows and exhibition-Visiting shows and exhibitions organized by manufactures and distributors and asking questions from the sales persons. Entrepreneurs can also get business ideas from products displayed in such shows.
- iii. Magazines and journals-Reading magazines and journals with business information may equip an entrepreneur with new business ideas. iv. Hobbies –These are activities pursued for pleasure but they can also serve as a source of business ideas e.g. photography.

v. Vocational training and experience-A business idea may be developed from one's own area of training or experience e.g. a teacher may use ideas from his/her training to start a private school. vi. Surveys and market research-This involves conducting an investigation to gather information from consumers on what products they require.

vii. Recycling/using waste products-Some waste products could be converted into useful products e.g. scrap metal for making jikos, old tyres for making sandals e.t.c viii. Listening to what people say-By listening keenly to what people say, one can identify unsatisfied needs e.g. complaints about goods and services in the market. These complaints may form a basis of a business idea for an entrepreneur. ix.

Identifying a market gap (niche)-An entrepreneur may try to identify/spot the needs of consumers which are not being met by the existing goods and services.

x. Brain storming-An entrepreneur can engage other people in a discussion on how best to develop businesses. xi. Listing attributes of a product-By listing the attributes of a product that is already existing in the market, one can find new use for the product. xii. Copying/improving an existing business-This involves identifying the weaknesses of a business and trying to come up with solutions.

Business Opportunity

A good business plan is not necessarily a business opportunity. A business idea becomes a business opportunity if it is viable i.e. it can be developed into a successful/profitable business enterprise A business opportunity is a favourable chance that an entrepreneur accepts for investment. It exists where there is a gap to be filled in the needs of the market. Examples of such gaps include:

- a) In availability of products-This is where goods and services needed by the consumers are not available at all in the market.
- b) Poor quality products-A business opportunity exists if one offers better quality goods and services than those of the existing businesses.
- c) Insufficient quantities-This is where the goods supplied are not enough to meet the demand/need of the consumers.
- d) Unaffordable prices-A business opportunity exists where one would charge affordable prices.
- e) Poor services-A business opportunity exists where customers are not served well.

Evaluating a business opportunity

This means assessing whether the identified opportunity is viable or not. This helps in arriving at the best decision concerning the business idea to implement Evaluation should be done carefully, systematically and without emotions. Evaluation is necessary even where there is only one business idea. This will help in avoiding starting a business that cannot succeed.

Factors to consider when evaluating a business opportunity The following are the factors to consider when evaluating a business opportunity.

- a. Personal consideration-These are the abilities and expectations of an entrepreneur. They include the following;
  - Objectives-The entrepreneur should evaluate the business idea to find out whether it is in line with his/her objectives.
  - Skills-Where a business requires certain specialized skills and those skills are lacking the idea may be dropped.
  - Commitments-Where the business is likely to interfere with the entrepreneurs other commitments it may fail.
  - Interest-It is necessary to check whether the intended business will interest the entrepreneur or not. If the entrepreneur will not enjoy running the business, the idea should be dropped.

b. Business consideration-These are external factors that are likely to affect the operations of the business and they include;

- i. Availability of market for the product-An entrepreneur should assess the availability of customers before starting a business.

Customers exist where there is a gap/nich in the market. ii.

Technology-The business should be evaluated in terms of whether there is an appropriate technology that can be used in production.

Factors to be looked into include;

- a. -Appropriateness of the technology
- b. -The cost of the technology
- c. -The possibility of the business suffering in case the technology becomes outdated/obsolete. iii.

Availability of raw materials and other resources-The raw materials and resources required should be within the reach and affordable to the entrepreneur.

- iv. Government policy-An entrepreneur should consider the requirements of the government before starting a business e.g. the government may require certain businesses to be located in certain areas only.

- v. Amount of capital required-The capital required to run and maintain the business should be considered i.e the source of capital.

- vi. Profitability of the business-Within a certain duration of time. vii. The break-even period-How long the business can take to support itself.

- viii. Possibility of expansion i.e. the potential for growth of the business. ix. Impact of the business operations on the environments; some businesses lead to environmental degradation and should be located in appropriate places/effect on community and environmental health.

- x. Security-Availability of security should be considered.
- xi. Level of competition-This will help determine whether the business will survive or not.
- xii. The risks that the business will face.

BUSINESS PLAN

This is a written document that highlights the objectives of the business and steps to be followed in order to achieve these objectives. It indicates where the business is, where it wants to move to, how and when.

Contents of a good business plan

1. Name of the business
2. The product to be sold or produced
3. Personnel to manage the business
4. Amount of finance and other resources required
5. The market to be served (customers)
6. Types of employees required
7. Projection (level of achievement in future in terms of profit)
8. Summary of the plan.

Need for the business plan

- i. A business plan is necessary to an entrepreneur for the following reasons:
- ii. Avoiding mistakes-in the process of drawing a plan; mistakes that would take place in the business are identified and corrected in the plan. This helps in avoiding the occurrence of such mistakes in the business.
- iii. Identifying strength and weaknesses-A business plan helps in identifying strengths or weaknesses and where weaknesses are detected, remedial actions may be taken early enough.
- iv. Requirement by financiers-Financial institutions such as banks may require a business plan before they can accept to finance the activities of the business.

- v. Allocation of resources-It helps to determine the resources required and plan on how and where to use them. This ensures that resources are neither underutilized nor used for the wrong purpose.
- vi. Facilitates business evaluation-A business plan helps an entrepreneur to assess the progress of the business and any deviation (difference) from the intended plan can be corrected in good time.
- vii. It helps an entrepreneur outline competition-It helps the entrepreneur to be fully aware of the market she or he plans to operate in, understand important trends and know who her/his competitors are and their strengths and weaknesses. This information aids the entrepreneur to develop products that are better than those of the competitors.
- viii. A motivating factor-A business plan is communicated to all employees in the business. This makes them aware of the direction to be taken by the business. This motivates them to work towards that direction.
- ix. Adaptability-Normally, not all events occur as predicted in the business plan. However, a well drawn business plan should give room to accommodate any changes that might occur in the future.
- x. Tool for control-Planning involves setting of standards against which performances can be assessed. In case of deviation corrective measures can be taken.

Factors that influence entrepreneurship practices There are many conditions or factors which may encourage or discourage entrepreneurship. Some of these factors are:

- i. Government policy-Some government policies are favourable to the operations of the business and thus encourage people to go into business while other policies may be unfavourable and will discourage people from going into business. E.g. higher taxes are unfavourable hence discouraging.

- ii. Infrastructure-infrastructure includes transport and communication networks, water, security e.t.c. Availability of good infrastructure in an area tends to encourage people to set up businesses while poor infrastructure tends to discourage them
- iii. Levels of education and skills-Relevant and appropriate knowledge and skills are necessary if the business has to succeed. These are acquired through education, training or experience.
- iv.

Availability of markets-Adequate markets encourages existing entrepreneurs to continue producing and also encourage/attract new ones to venture into business.

- v. Availability of resources-Appropriate resources are necessary for starting and smooth running of a business. These resources include physical, human, capital and technology.
- vi. Cultural and social beliefs and attitudes-These are norms, values and beliefs of a given community. Culture helps determine the kind of goods and services that people consume. this in turn, dictates the type of businesses to be established in such communities.e.g Muslims do not take pork therefore businesses selling pork will not do well in such communities.
- vii. Competition-Businesses will do well if they are able to complete favourably. Others will avoid competition by establishing businesses where there is no competition.
- viii. Political stability-political stability gives conducive atmosphere for businesses to start and thrive on the other hands, where there is no political instability, businesses may not do well and entrepreneurs may close down businesses or new ones may not come up.
- ix. Natural factors-natural factors such as rainfall, temperatures, earthquakes, pests, drought e.t.c. may influence the type of businesses that are carried out in an area, especially agricultural businesses.

- x. Presence of role models in the society-The presence of successful entrepreneurs acts as an encouragement to aspiring entrepreneurs.

Causes of Business success

A business is considered as being successful if it makes consistent profit and experiences progressive growth in the scale of its operations. Some of the factors that lead to the success of business may include:

- (i) Right choice of business-A good business opportunity needs to be evaluated on the basis of ability to capture many customers, make reasonable profit for the owner(s) and provide an opportunity for growth. Making the right choice of a business or product ultimately contributes to the success of a business.
- (ii) Proper managerial skills-An entrepreneur should be able to carry out management roles effectively. A good manager will carry out roles such as;
  - a) Hiring staff-The process of acquiring new employees to take up new positions or to replace employees who have left the business.
  - b) Assigning duties-Allocating employees duties according to their qualifications.
  - c) Supervising-Ensuring that employees carry out tasks that are assigned to them
  - d) Training-Enabling employees to acquire knowledge and skills necessary to perform duties assigned to them.
  - e) Motivating-giving employees inducement to perform their duties.
- (iii) Proper location/availability of customers-The business should be situated in a place convenient for its operations e.g. where customers are easily available.
- (iv) Adequate finance/capital-Money is needed to acquire other resources that are required by the business. A business that has adequate capital is likely to do well as it is able to finance all its operations.

- (v) Lack of competition-Most businesses are put out of operation by stiff competition. Therefore, a business operating in an area where there is little or no competition is likely to succeed.
- (vi) Commitment to business
- (vii) Proper financial management-Proper management of finances is necessary for the success of the business. It ensures that money is available and is used for the intended purpose.

Management of finances includes:

- a) Acquisition of finances-This involves raising of the required amounts of money. This can be done through a variety of ways such as loans from financial institutions and owner's contributions.
- b) Managing cash-This ensures that the available money is only used for the activities that are beneficial to the well being of the business.
- c) Proper record keeping-This involves having a record of finances raised and how they are used.
- (viii) Proper debt management-Care should be taken to ensure that credit is only extended to credit worthy customers (credit worthy customers are those whose chances of paying are high).Debt collection should also be carefully planned to ensure that they are collected when due.
- (ix) Good public relations-This involves creating and improving a good relationship between the business and other people. Good relations are necessary for attracting and retention of customers.
- (x) Being creative and innovative-This involves finding new uses of a product, new channels of communication and new ways of doing things. This enables the entrepreneur to be ahead of others.
- (xi) Proper market research-The business environment usually changes at a high rate. This makes it necessary for an entrepreneur to study his/her customer's preferences, tastes, spending patterns, income levels, competitions, and behavior and substitute products.

- (xii) Good/proper time management-Time management is the ability to carry out planned activities within the allocated period.
- (xiii) Proper skills and attitudes of employees-Employing qualified staff results in work being done in a professional manner.
This enhances the performance of the business.
- (xiv) Proper pricing of goods and services-Pricing should be done appropriately. If the prices for the products are too high, the business will lose customers. Very low prices may attract customers but kill the business. It is therefore important to create a balance between price to charge and the profit margin to realize.

ETHICAL ISSUES IN BUSINESS

Ethics -refers to a set of values, principles and rules of acceptable behavior which influence how individuals, groups of people and the society in general behave.

Business ethics-refers to acceptable behavior that should be displayed by business people. Business ethics helps businesses in deciding what actions are right or wrong depending on circumstances.

Ethical issues-are the moral concerns that arise in the course of carrying out business.

Need for Ethical issues in Business

The need for ethical issues in business includes the following;

- i. Ensures no discrimination in business-Business ethics ensures there is no discrimination in areas such as recruitment (hiring), promotion, training, remuneration and assignment of duties. These processes should be objective and based on merit, qualification, experience and ability.

-It ensures that everybody is given an equal opportunity (has equal chance) and is not discriminated against because of their sex, religion, ethnicity, social background e.t.c.

ii. Ensures protection of the environment/Helps in avoiding environmental pollution-Business ethics prohibits business units from carrying out activities that may cause pollution and degradation of the environment. Environmental degradation may be caused by human activities such as logging and unplanned cultivation. Pollution may be caused by activities such as:

- a) Damping effluents from production units into water masses thereby causing water pollution. Water pollution is disastrous to human health and also to aquatic animals.
- b) Emitting carbon dioxide and other gases into the atmosphere causing air pollution
- c) Damping of waste material on the land surface causing solid waste pollution This creates terrible sites to watch and also breeding places for dangerous insects such as flies.

iii. Ensures fair play in competition-Ethics ensures that businesses do not engage in unfair practices while competing with others. These practices may include:

- ☐ Destroying a competitor's product or promotional tools such as billboards
- ☐ Buying and destroying competitor's products before they reach the market
- ☐ Giving false information about a competitor's product
- ☐ Helps in avoiding environmental degradation-Ethics ensures that the physical environment is not degraded through business activities. Such activities may include:
  - Deforestation through logging
  - Unplanned cultivation
  - Helps in avoiding environmental pollution-Environmental pollution may be caused by activities such as:

- ★ Releasing carbon dioxide and other gases into the atmosphere thereby causing air pollution

- ✦ Channeling effluents from factories to water masses thereby causing water pollution. Such pollution can be harmful to human health and aquatic animals.
- ✦ Disposing of waste material such as paper and scrap metal on the land surface thereby causing solid waste pollution.
- ✦ Producing too loud noise which might be harmful to human beings hearings
- ✦ Emitting too strong light that may be harmful to our eyesight iv.

Ensures rights of employees are upheld-Ethics ensures that the employer does not violate the rights of employees especially as laid out in their terms and conditions of employment. Such rights include payment of dues in time.

v. Eliminates use of unfair means of achieving business objectivesEthics ensures that the business operations are carried out in a professional way e.g. it is unethical to give or receive a bribe in order to win a business contract. Similarly, it is not ethical to hoard goods awaiting their prices to go up. vi. Avoids consumer exploitation-Ethics ensures that consumers are not exploited by the business. Consumers may be exploited through practices such as: a) Overcharging them

- b) False advertisement
